

Sea Sunday

Introduction

- We all need seafarers. If we didn't have them, we wouldn't have all the things we have now.

This is a pair of bananas

- Who likes bananas?
- The bananas come from the Windward Islands so who transports them across the sea? Seafarers do! Who else?

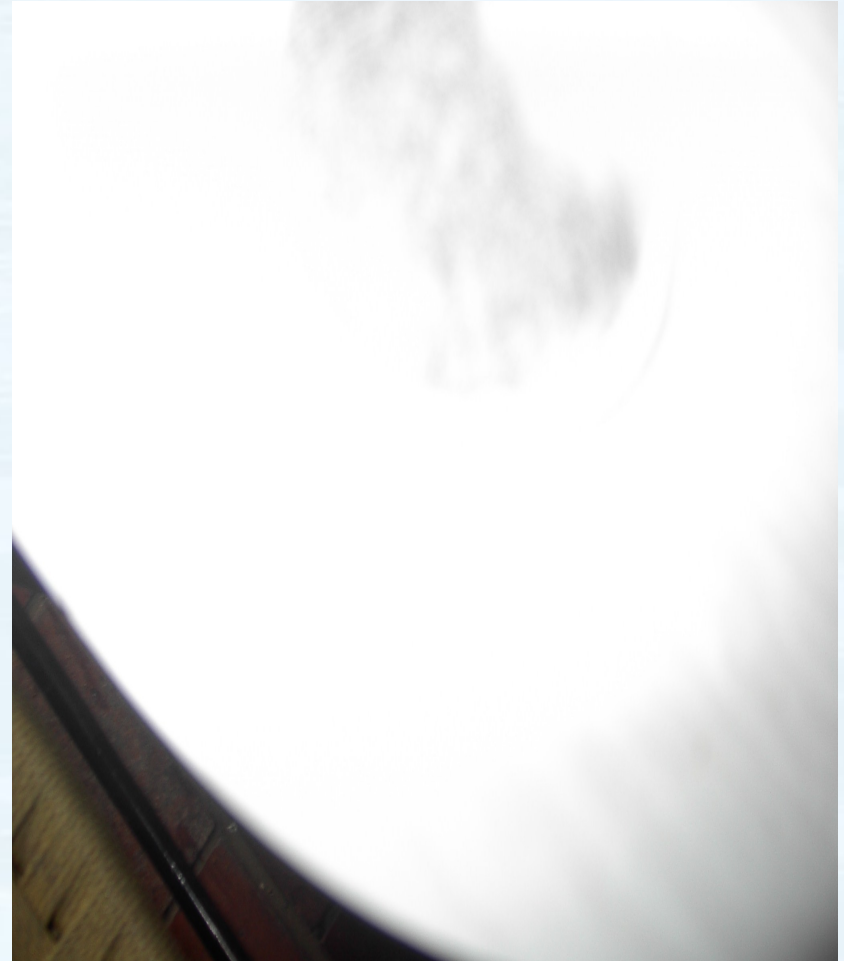

This is a rubber duck

- Who likes to play with rubber ducks?
- The rubber duck comes from the Far East. How does it get to Britain? In a boat with seafarers!

On the table is a tea bag.

- It's a bit faint, though.
- Tea comes from India. So, who gets it over the ocean? Yes, you guessed it, Seafarers!

This is can of Fiery Ginger Beer

- Hot!
- The ginger is from Jamaica and of course, Seafarers take it to Britain.

I say, I say, I say, My wife went to the West Indies
Jamaica?
No! She wanted to go!

What sort of sailor rules Egypt?

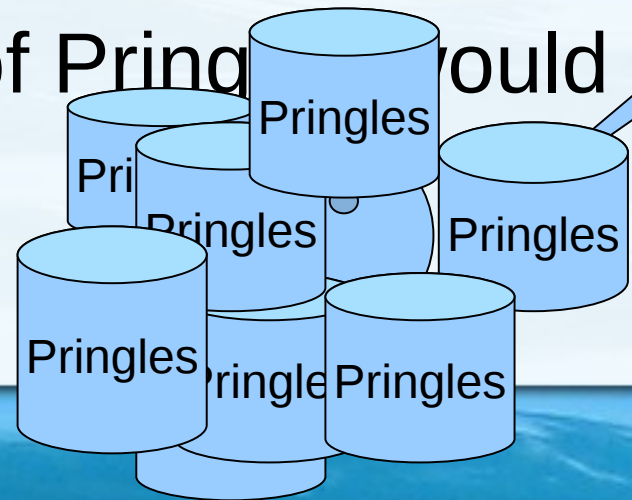

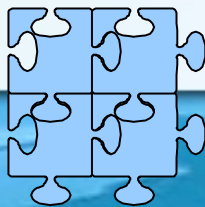

- A Seafare-o (Sea pharaoh, get it?)

Donations

- You don't just donate Money. You can also donate Pringles. Seafarers really like Pringles!
- Other items include: Toys or Souvenirs for their children – they don't have time to go to Tesco's(!); Clothes – as above.
- Being bombed with tins of Pringles would be a bit boring.

PRINGGOALS

£5

Ow!

Port of Felixstowe

- I went to the Port of Felixstowe
- We met Sister Marion at the Seafarers Centre.
- The seafarers can relax there, play games, read books, watch videos or phone home.

Port Police

- We all had to get a pass from the port police

A Container Ship

Loading and Unloading

- Land tugs take the containers to and from the cranes.
- Computers control the cranes and tell the land tug drivers where to go.

Some Seafarers

A Freight Train...

A Long Freight Train

A Very Long Freight Train

A Very Very Long Freight Train

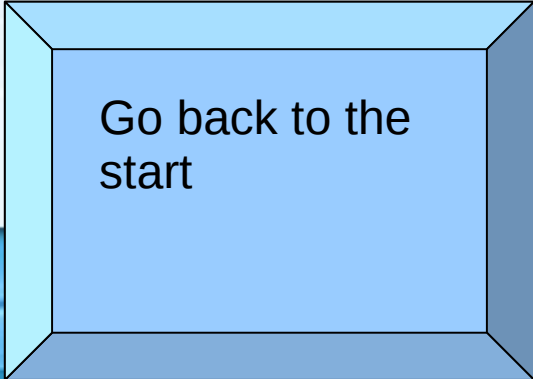

An Incredibly Long Freight Train

The Apostleship of the Sea

For more information see:

<http://apostleshipofthesea.org.uk/>

Go back to the start